Useful Information

- When we aren't producing our next production or using the space for internal activity, our auditorium is available for hire to external companies.
- Availability depends on the current show schedule and cannot be guaranteed. We generally release our availability quarterly after we announce each season of programming.
- We are a working theatre therefore the stage will often have a theatrical set in place during the event/hire.
- Please note, the auditorium is unavailable for hire for externally produced performances due to the programming of Kiln's own theatrical season.
